

"Both the Body of Jesus and the temple seem to me to be a type of the Church, which with lively stones is built up into a spiritual house, into an holy priesthood; according to St. Paul, You are the body of Christ, and members in particular. And though the structure of stones seem to be broken up, and all the bones of Christ scattered by adversities and tribulations, yet shall the temple be restored, and raised up again in three days, and established in the now heaven and the new earth."

MUSIC

Greetings Church Family!

Happy Third Sunday of Advent! Several of you asked about the meditation music before mass last Sunday. It is one of the best CDs I have found for Lent: Lent at Ephesus. The Benedictines of Mary, Queen of Apostles is a monastic community located in rural Missouri. Consecrated to the Queen of Apostles, their lives are immersed in contemplative prayer. They mainly support themselves by making priestly vestments. I found the CD on amazon. Prime for about $16. We will be singing a cappella today and I would like to share that joining our voices together is a beautiful expression of "contemplative prayer" as well. Think about how it features your God-made instrument and helps us to connect spiritually to each other. Let's unite this mass in "A CAPPELLA PRAISE!" Blessings! Michael
